

The Morning Glow!

The radiance of the morning glow - behold my dreams before my eyes,

The legacy of a bygone age - echoes deep beneath disguise.

The concentration of the inner light - guidance from the heart,

The natural gift of magnetic grace - and it re-defines our path.

The de ja vu that's inside of you - the illumination of full view,

Head to head a tower of energy - is it the same for you?

The fountain of nourishment for the spirit - looks set to overflow,

The jig saw pieces of a star crossed spiral - find their place to grow!

The courage of our faith's conviction - casting petals along the way,

The golden orb of true belonging - builds stronger by the day.

The hold of strength and fate's re-union - in the palms of our hands,

The reality of a connection beyond time and tide - ahead the future plans.

Weaving threads from strands of lives - long since passed to dust,

Opening a channel and a communication - with a vision left to rust!

An unfinished symphony offering the reins - of a journey built to last,

Vibrant is the constant that lights the way- to a horizon oh so vast!

With faith comes a trust delivered with honesty - where harmony sings along,

Serenading the rhythm of life with its melody - and feels its timeless song.

Deeper and deeper the depth of connection - with the power of the earth,

Holding the water where the moonlight flourishes - and its birth after birth!

The gentle ocean rides its swelling waves - the contenting streams of peace,

Supporting the thoughts of each new moment - all waiting for release!

The love of the mountains and the rock of foundation - with the earth carpeting the floor,

To path the way of each new day - and we are joined forever more!

By

Mylo Tup