

I Feel ...

I feel the welcome of my calling – playing the harp strings of my heart,
It's like a symphony of harmony – weaving the golden threads that hold my spirit!
The shimmering light that glows brilliant – like a beacon of peace in its honey tones,
Is my anchor my grounding – my connection with the love, light and energy of life!

I feel the need to cleanse my soul – to bathe the flower petals of my being,
Existence is purpose and purpose is meaning – a lost understanding!
The lessons and the teaching lessons of radiation and projection come to light,
Interpretation is a nutshell of understanding and explaining the rhythm of the earth!

Flutters buying a moment on the breeze and yet free to pick and choose,
The strength of giving to believing is everything - I wish to share this gift with you!

I feel the harmony of empathy in all creation and the focus of my path,
Holding the hand of a real foundation – I feel I truly walk the earth!
